BILL COWHER

HEAD COACH

Bill Cowher was named the 15th head coach in the Steelers' 60-year history on January 21, 1992. In introducing Cowher to the Pittsburgh media, Steelers president Dan Rooney said, "Bill is a very capable young man, with the experience and intelligence to be a successful coach in the National Football League. I am impressed with his strength, character, and enthusiasm, and his appreciation for the game."

At age 35 Cowher is the second-youngest head coach in the NFL, younger than all except Cincinnati's David Shula. He is two years younger than the man he replaced, Chuck Noll, when Noll was named the Steelers' head coach in January of 1969. This is Cowher's 13th year in the league including five seasons as a player and seven as an assistant coach.

In being presented as the Steelers' new head coach, Cowher stated, "The task at hand is clear and simple. What we must do is take the credibility and stability of the front office and the wealth of young, improving players, and we are going to unite them through commitment, through dedication, and through a great work ethic. We will bring the pride and tradition that has long been associated with the Pittsburgh Steelers and, more importantly, the people of Pittsburgh."

A Pittsburgh-area native, Cowher returned to his hometown after three seasons as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Kansas City Chiefs under Marty Schottenheimer. In 1989, Cowher's first season as a 32-year-old defensive coordinator, the Kansas City defense led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL in allowing an average of 268.3 yards per game.

The following year the unit led the league in three categories with 60 sacks, 25 fumbles recovered, and 45 takeaways. Last season Kansas City ranked third in the conference and fifth overall in the NFL as the Chiefs went 10-6 and qualified for a wild card playoff berth.

Cowher's move to Kansas City in 1989 followed four years of coaching in Cleveland, where he served as the Browns' special teams coach in 1985-86 and secondary coach in 1987-88 under Schottenheimer. As secondary coach, Cowher saw his 1987 group make 23 interceptions to tie for third in the AFC, while in 1988 the Cleveland defense ranked fourth overall in the conference.

A former linebacker and special teams standout, Cowher enjoyed a five-year playing career with Cleveland (1980-82) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1983-84). He signed with Philadelphia in 1979 as a free agent rookie, but was waived after playing in three preseason games. The following year he signed with Cleveland and played in all 16 games including two starts at inside linebacker.

Cowher sat out the 1981 campaign after suffering a season-ending knee injury in the third preseason game, returning in 1982 as special teams captain and starting at outside linebacker in two games while playing in all nine contests.

Cowher was traded to Philadelphia prior to the start of the 1983 season (Aug. 21). He was selected the Eagles' most valuable special teams player that year and played in all 16 contests. In 1984 a career-ending knee injury kept him out of all but four games. Cowher returned to Cleveland the following year, at age 28, as a member of Schottenheimer's staff.

Cowher grew up in the Crafton area west of Pittsburgh. He is a 1975 graduate of Carlynton High School, where he excelled in football, basketball, and track. He went on to North Carolina State, where he earned four letters as a three-year starter at linebacker. As a senior in 1978 Cowher was selected the team's captain as well as most valuable player after leading the defense in tackles for the second consecutive year. He also received the 1978 Cary Brewer Award as the school's outstanding defensive lineman as selected by the coaching staff, and was graduated in 1979 with a degree in education.

Cowher was born in Pittsburgh on May 8, 1957. It was at North Carolina State that Cowher met his wife, Kaye. Also a graduate of North Carolina State, Kaye and her twin sister Faye played professional basketball for the New York Stars of the Women's Professional Basketball League. The Cowhers have three daughters — Meagan Lyn (6), Lauren Marie (4), and Lindsay Morgan (1).

ASSISTANT COACHES

DOM CAPERS

Defensive Coordinator

Dom Capers became defensive coordinator on January 30 of this year and begins his 18th season of coaching, his seventh in the NFL. Capers, 42, came to the Steelers following six years as the New Orleans Saints defensive backs coach.

Under Capers the New Orleans defense ranked among the NFL's top five for interceptions three times (1986, 1987, 1991). Last year the Saints were second in the league only to Philadelphia in total defense, rushing defense, and pass defense, allowing an average of 245.8 yards per game including 75.8 rushing and 170.0 passing. They also led the NFL with 29 interceptions and ranked third with 50 sacks.

Capers' 18 years of coaching experience includes nine seasons at the college level and two in the USFL. He was a graduate assistant at Kent State (1972-74) and Washington (1975) prior to beginning fulltime coaching in 1975.

Capers' first coaching position was as defensive backs coach at Hawaii, where he spent two years (1975-76). He then coached at San Jose State (1977), California (1978-79), Tennessee (1980-81), and Ohio State (1982-83).

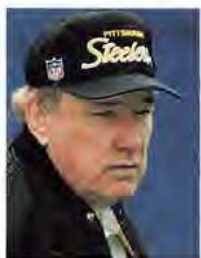

In 1984 Capers joined head coach Jim Mora's staff with the USFL Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. In both the 1984 and 1985 seasons the Stars won the USFL championship. Capers then went with Mora to the New Orleans Saints in 1986 as defensive backs coach.

Capers is a graduate of Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, where he played defensive back from 1968-71 and also played baseball. He received a bachelor of arts degree in 1972 and his master's in administration in 1974.

Dom was born on August 7, 1950 in Cambridge, Ohio. He lives in Pittsburgh.

RON ERHARDT

Offensive Coordinator

Ron Erhardt was named offensive coordinator on January 27. This marks his 20th season in the NFL and his 36th year of coaching. Erhardt spent the past 10 years with the New York Giants.

A veteran of 36 years in coaching, Erhardt was the Giants' offensive coordinator from 1982-90, a span that included the Giants' victories in Super Bowls XXI and XXV. He was named assistant head coach for the 1991 season.

Erhardt, 62, began his coaching career with seven seasons at the high school level in North Dakota. He coached at Williston High in 1956 followed by six years as head coach at St. Mary's and Bishop Ryan, posting a 45-9-2 record as a head coach.

In 1963 Erhardt moved into the college ranks at North Dakota State (1963-72). He was head coach from 1966-72 and had a 62-7-1 record over seven seasons including two consecutive College Division national championships. His .884 winning percentage makes him one of the winningest coaches ever in the College Division.

Erhardt joined the NFL in 1973 as offensive backfield coach for the New England Patriots. After four years in that capacity he was offensive coordinator for two seasons (1977-78) before being named head coach in 1979. As Patriots head coach from 1979-81 Erhardt's teams had records of 9-7, 10-6, and 2-14. In 1982 he began his 10-year stint with the Giants.

Erhardt was an all conference quarterback for Jamestown (N.D.) College. He also lettered in baseball and basketball. Following college he served three years in the military.

Ron was born on February 27, 1931 in Mandan, North Dakota. He and his wife Anita have four children — Jan, Rob, Jim and Jill.

STEVE FURNESS

Defensive Line Coach

Steve Furness returned to the Steelers this year, 12 years after his nine-year career as a defensive tackle for the Steelers. He was named defensive line coach on January 27 and is entering his 11th year of coaching, his second in the NFL.

Furness, 41, served as defensive line coach for the Indianapolis Colts last season following eight years of coaching at the college level. He began his coaching career in 1982 with the USFL Philadelphia Stars under head coach George Perles.

In 1983 Furness went with Perles to Michigan State, where he coached the defensive line from 1983-90. The Spartans made six bowl appearances in those eight seasons.

Furness' NFL career began as a fifth-round draft choice of the Steelers in 1972. Over the next nine seasons (1972-80), in which he started 49 games, Furness accumulated 32 sacks, which still ranks seventh in team history. In 1977 he led the team with a career-high eight and a half sacks.

Furness is one of 22 players who were on all four Steelers Super Bowl teams. He was traded to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in August of 1981 and then signed as a free agent with the Detroit Lions, where he spent the 1981 season.

A graduate of Rhode Island, Furness was inducted into the school's hall of fame in 1987. He received his bachelor's degree in 1972 and earned a master's degree in athletic administration from Michigan State in 1987. He is currently working towards a Ph.D. in higher education and administration.

Steve was born on December 6, 1950 in Warwick, Rhode Island. He and his wife Deborah, who also hails from Warwick, have two sons — Zachary and Zaban.

JOHN GUY

Special Teams Coach

John Guy embarks upon his first season of coaching in the NFL in 1992, his 20th year as coach. He was named special teams coach on February 12 after two years as assistant head coach at Kentucky.

While he is new to the Steelers coaching staff, Guy is not a new face to the Steelers.

Through the NFL Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, in which each NFL team sponsors a minority college coach during training camp, Guy spent parts of the last two training camps with the Steelers working primarily with the linebackers. When he was hired on February 12 Guy became the eighth coach to join an NFL team fulltime through the Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, which began in 1987. Among the other current NFL coaches who came through this program are Cincinnati's Ron Meeks, Dallas' Robert Ford, Atlanta's Ollie Wilson, and the Rams' Rod Perry.

Guy, 41, spent the past 19 years coaching at colleges in the East. He began his coaching career in 1973 under head coach Bill Dooley at North Carolina, where he spent five years (1973-77). Following were stops at Virginia Tech (1978), Duke (1978-80), Georgia Tech (1981-86), Alabama (1987-89), and Kentucky (1990-91).

The last two years Guy was assistant head coach/football operations in addition to coaching the outside linebackers and kickers at Kentucky.

Guy attended North Carolina A&T, where he was an All-MEAC defensive back and kicker. A 1972 academic All-MEAC selection as well, he received his sociology and psychology degree from North Carolina A&T in 1973 and a master's from North Carolina in 1974.

John was born on May 26, 1951 in Greensboro, N.C.

BOB HARRISON

Wide Receivers Coach

Bob Harrison begins his second NFL coaching job in 1992 as the Steelers' wide receivers coach. He joined the staff on February 6 and is in his 25th year of coaching.

Harrison's previous experience in the NFL was as receivers coach for the Atlanta Falcons. He spent four seasons with Atlanta, from 1983-86.

Harrison, 50, has coached at the high school, collegiate, and professional levels. He began his coaching career in 1964 at his alma mater, John Adams High in Cleveland, Ohio. He was an assistant coach at John Adams from 1964-66 and head coach from 1967-68 in addition to serving as academic instructor.

In 1969 Harrison moved to the college ranks, where he spent the next 14 years. He was a defensive coach at Kent State (1969-70), receivers coach at Iowa (1971-73), offensive coordinator at Cornell (1974), tight ends and tackles coach at North Carolina State (1975-76), and receivers coach under Johnny Majors at Tennessee (1977-82).

In Harrison's six years at Tennessee, where he coached Willie Gault, the Volunteers played in three bowl games.

Harrison was then named receivers coach of the Atlanta Falcons in 1983 and coached there through the 1988 season.

In 1988 Harrison joined the staff at Georgia, where he spent the last three years as the team's receivers coach.

Harrison attended Kent State, where he was an All-MAC receiver as well as team captain. He was graduated in 1964 with a bachelor's degree in history and political science.

Bob was born on September 9, 1941 in Cleveland, Ohio. He and his wife Anna Marie have two daughters — Lorraine and Barbara.

DICK HOAK

Running Backs Coach

Dick Hoak enters his 31st year with the Steelers in 1992 and his 21st consecutive as a Steelers assistant coach. He was offensive backfield coach for 20 seasons under Chuck Noll before being named running backs coach by Bill Cowher on January 27 this year. He is the only assistant retained from the previous Steelers staff.

Hoak, 52, joined Noll's staff in 1972 after one year of coaching high school football and just two years after retiring from an outstanding playing career for the Steelers.

Drafted by the Steelers on the seventh round in 1961, Hoak spent the next 10 seasons in the Pittsburgh backfield. He led the Steelers in rushing three times (1965, 1968, 1969) and played in one Pro Bowl after ranking fourth in the league in 1968 with 858 rushing yards. When he retired following the 1970 season Hoak had gained 3,965 career rushing yards, which at that time was second in team history. Today Hoak still ranks fourth behind Hall of Famers Franco Harris and John Henry Johnson, and Frank Pollard.

Hoak also currently ranks eighth in Steelers history for career touchdowns with 33, fourth in rushing touchdowns with 25, and second in rushing attempts with 1,132. In addition to his rushing total, Hoak made 145 receptions for 1,152 yards and eight touchdowns.

As a standout running back and quarterback for Penn State, Hoak was selected the team MVP as a senior. He graduated in 1961 with a bachelor's degree in social studies.

Dick was born on December 8, 1939 in Jeanette, Pennsylvania. He and his wife Lynn have three children — daughters Kelly and Katie and son Richard. The Hoaks live in Greensburg.

PAT HODGSON

Tight Ends Coach

Pat Hodgson became the fifth member of Bill Cowher's staff when he was named tight ends coach on February 3. This will be Hodgson's 22nd year of coaching and his 11th in the NFL. He spent 11 years coaching in the college ranks prior to 10 seasons in the NFL.

Hodgson inherits one of the Steelers' strongest positions with Eric Green and Adrian Cooper. Both players are young and talented and will play a large role in the Steelers offense.

A former NFL tight end himself, Hodgson spent two years as a player with the Washington Redskins (1966) and Minnesota Vikings (1967). He began his coaching career the following year and coached at Georgia (1968-70, 1972-77), Florida State (1971), and Texas Tech (1978).

In 1978 Hodgson returned to the NFL as the San Diego Chargers receivers coach. He then coached the New York Giants' tight ends from 1979-87. During his last six years with the Giants, which included the team's Super Bowl XXI victory, Hodgson worked under offensive coordinator Ron Erhardt.

Hodgson, 48, returns to coaching after four years away from football. Since leaving the Giants following the 1987 season he worked as the director of marketing for Richard A Stevens, a construction management firm in Whippany, New Jersey.

Hodgson played tight end from 1963-65 at Georgia, where he was the team MVP, co-captain, and honorable mention All-America in 1965. He was also an All-SEC selection in both 1963 and 1965. He received a B.A. degree in general business in 1966.

Pat was born on January 30, 1944 in Columbus, Georgia. He and his wife Mary Ann have two sons — Pat Jr. and Chris.

DICK LeBEAU

Defensive Backs Coach

Dick LeBeau begins his 34th year in the NFL in 1992, his 20th in coaching. He was named defensive backs coach for the Steelers on February 7 following 12 years with the Cincinnati Bengals, the last eight as defensive coordinator.

LeBeau spent his first 14 NFL seasons as a standout cornerback for the Detroit Lions from 1959-72. After being drafted by the Cleveland Browns on the fifth round in 1959 he was waived and signed with Detroit. LeBeau played in 171 consecutive games for the Lions and was voted to the Pro Bowl in 1965, 1966, and 1967.

LeBeau's 62 career interceptions, which included a career-high nine to lead the NFC in 1970, ranked third in NFL history at the time of his retirement and currently ties him for fifth place on the NFL all-time list. He trails only Paul Krause, Emlen Tunnell, Dick "Night Train" Lane, and Ken Riley, sharing fifth place with Dave Brown.

LeBeau retired following the 1972 season and began his coaching career as special teams coach for the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-75). He also served four seasons as defensive backs coach for the Green Bay Packers (1976-79) before taking the same position with Cincinnati in 1980. In 1984 LeBeau was promoted to defensive coordinator, a position he held through the 1991 season, in addition to coaching the Bengals' defensive backs.

LeBeau, 54, attended Ohio State, where he played offensive and defensive back. He was a member of the Buckeyes' 1957 national champion team and was graduated in 1959 with a bachelor's degree in education.

Dick was born on September 9, 1937 in London, Ohio. He and his wife Nancy have one son, Brandon Grant.

MARVIN LEWIS

Linebackers Coach

Marvin Lewis was named linebackers coach on February 6 of this year. This is his first NFL coaching position following 11 years of coaching at the college level.

Lewis, 33, is a native of nearby McDonald, Pennsylvania. He returned to the Pittsburgh area two years ago to coach the University of Pittsburgh outside linebackers for the last two seasons.

In 1981 Lewis began his coaching career at his alma mater, Idaho State, where he was linebackers coach from 1981-84. In Lewis' first season on the Idaho State staff the team finished 12-1 and won the NCAA Division I-AA championship.

Lewis then coached the outside linebackers at Long Beach State for two seasons (1985-86), followed by three years at New Mexico (1987-89), where his duties were the inside linebackers in 1987 and 1988 and outside linebackers in 1989. He also served the dual role of recruiting coordinator his last two years at New Mexico before returning to Pittsburgh in 1990.

After graduating from McDonald's Fort Cherry High, where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety and also lettered in wrestling and baseball, Lewis attended Idaho State. He earned All-Big Sky Conference honors in 1978, 1979, and 1980 as linebacker and also played quarterback and free safety during his college career.

Lewis received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981. In 1982 he received a master's in athletic administration.

Marvin was born on September 23, 1958 in McDonald, Pennsylvania. He and his wife Peggy have two children — daughter Whitney and son Marcus.

KENT STEPHENSON

Offensive Line Coach

Kent Stephenson begins his 28th year of coaching in 1992 and his eighth season in the NFL. On February 7 he was named offensive line coach, a position he held for the Seattle Seahawks for the last seven years.

In taking over the Steelers' offensive line, Stephenson will tutor a relatively young group of players. It is a position that could find several new faces in the mix with a new emphasis on larger linemen and more power blocking schemes than in the past.

Stephenson's coaching career includes 18 years at the college level and two in the USFL prior to his entering the NFL in 1985 with Seattle.

In 1965 Stephenson began his coaching career at Wayne State (1965-68). Over the next 18 years he coached at North Dakota (1969-71), Southern Methodist (1972-73), Iowa (1974-76), Oklahoma State (1977-78), and Kansas (1979-82).

Stephenson, 50, got his first pro coaching job in 1983 as offensive line coach of the USFL Michigan Panthers (1983-84). In the 1983 season the Panthers won the USFL championship game.

In 1985 Stephenson entered the NFL as the Seattle Seahawks' offensive line coach under Chuck Knox. He spent the past seven years in that capacity.

A graduate of Northern Iowa, Stephenson was an all-conference selection as a two-way lineman. He earned his undergraduate degree in history and physical education from Northern Iowa in 1965. Stephenson later received a master's in education from Wayne State in 1966.

Kent was born on February 4, 1942 in Anita, Iowa. He and his wife Shirley have two children — daughter Heidi and son Kyle.

Height of perfection.

The point where many of today's cars run out of gas.

It happens so much sooner than you would think. At around 15,000 miles, the engines in many of today's cars start suffering from octane deficiency. They simply lose their oomph. They can get sluggish, unresponsive, begin to lose acceleration. Regular unleaded gasoline may not be enough. That's the time to turn to Silver.

Amoco Silver® is a step up from pure regular unleaded gasoline. Its higher octane can eliminate engine knock, run-on and bring back the acceleration and power that was there when your car was brand new. It may be all you'll ever need to keep your car's engine running the way it was designed to run. Bring back the power

One in a series recognizing the little things that add up to Pittsburgh—the city we at Westinghouse have called home for over 100 years.

It's a Pittsburgh landmark that has stood facing the Golden Triangle for over 20 years. It contains no words, no commercial messages, not even the name of the corporation it represents. Yet, the world's first computer-controlled outdoor electric sign perfectly symbolizes the innovation and high technology that have become as unmistakably Westinghouse as its circle W logo.

Nine of the world-famous circle W logos sit atop the Westinghouse Electric Supply Company Building on Pittsburgh's North Side. Their unique neon blue message is comprised of 81 light circuits, each lit in random sequence to assemble the nine trademarks. The number of combinations that can be used to light the sign, using these 81 elements, can run in the trillions. The result is a message as active, diverse and thought provoking as the city itself. And it's just one of the many details that make Pittsburgh a unique and endlessly fascinating place to live and work.

You can be sure... if it's Westinghouse

SIXTY SEASONS WITH THE STEELERS

1930s

Art Rooney, Sr. purchased an NFL franchise in 1933 for $2,500.00. The team — nicknamed the Pirates — played in Forbes Field. Forrest (Jap) Douds was the first head coach, followed in quick order by Luby DiMelio, Joe Bach, player-coach Johnny Blood (McNally) and Walt Kiesling. Only once in the thirties did the team do as well as break even and that was in 1936 when Bach led them to a 6-6 record. In 1938, current U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White led the NFL in rushing with 567 yards as a rookie.

1940s — The Pirates began the forties the way they ended the thirties with a 2-7-2 mark in 1940. Rooney sold the team to Alexis Thompson and bought into the Philadelphia Eagles, but by April, 1941, he and Thompson swapped franchises and Rooney was back in Pittsburgh to stay. That same year the team was renamed the Steelers and in 1942 recorded its first winning season, 7-4, behind Rookie of the Year halfback Bill Dudley. World War II forced a Steelers-Eagles merger in 1943 with a 5-4-1 finish, good for third place in the East. In 1944, the Steelers and Chicago Cardinals combined but the result was an 0-10 season. Back in Pittsburgh the next year, Jim Leonard's team won just two games. Rooney hired the legendary Jock Sutherland in 1946 and he directed a 5-5-1 record in his first season. Dudley led the NFL in rushing and interceptions but was traded to Detroit. In 1947, the Steelers tied Philadelphia for first place in the East at 8-4, but were shut out in the playoff, 21-0. A few months later Sutherland died while on a scouting trip and was replaced by his protege, John Michelosen.

1950s — Joe Bach returned to replace Michelosen after the 1951 season. Under Bach, the Steelers became the last NFL team to switch their offense from the single wing to the T-formation. The team finished 5-7. In 1953, receiver Elbie Nickel had 62 catches, second best in the NFL, but Finks was injured in mid-season and the team lost four of five games enroute to a 6-6 mark. Due to illness, Bach resigned after the season and Kiesling took over for the third time. In three years, he compiled a 14-22 record. Finks retired in 1956. Buddy Parker, who had led the Detroit Lions to two NFL titles, became the 11th coach in Steelers history. Parker acquired quarterback Earl Morrall in 1957, a trade in which the Steelers gave up two first round draft choices even though they had made quarterback Len Dawson their first choice in the year's draft. The next year Parker traded Morrall to the Lions for quarterback Bobby Layne. Again the Steelers gave up draft choices but the team won six and tied one of their last seven games with Layne at the helm to finish at 7-4-1, the second best record in team history.

1960 — Injuries plagued the team and the record fell to 5-6-1. Buddy Dial set a team record which still stands with 12 TD receptions. RB Jack Spikes was the first draft choice and the next five had been traded.

1961 — The Steelers lost their first four games by a total of 21 points before winning six of the final ten. The draft produced two players who are still in the organization — assistant coach Dick Hoak and scout Bob Schmitz.

1962 — QB Ed Brown, a mid-season acquisition, led the team to a 9-5 record which was their best ever. It earned them a berth in the short-lived Playoff Bowl in Miami where they lost to Detroit, 17-10. John Henry Johnson became the first player in team history to rush for 1,000 yards (1,141). Bobby Layne retired and Big Daddy Lipscomb died.

1963 — The Steelers went into the final game of the season against the New York Giants with a 7-3-3 record and needed a win to capture their first-ever title. The Giants prevailed, 33-17, and the Steelers' wait continued. LB Andy Russell, a seven-time Pro Bowl selection, was a 16th round draft choice. Buddy Dial set a team record with 1,209 yards receiving.

1964 — Art Rooney, Sr. was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. A five game losing streak in mid-season led to a 5-9 record in what was to be Parker's last season. Johnson again hit the 1,000-yard (1,048) mark.

1965 — Parker left right before the season started and was replaced by assistant Mike Nixon, who had previously been a head coach with the Redskins. Two straight victories were sandwiched between five and seven game losing streaks.

1966 — Former Green Bay great Bill Austin, a Vince Lombardi disciple, was hired to coach. His first season record of 5-8-1 was his best.

1967 — Another lackluster year resulted in a 4-9-1 finish. The season began with six straight defeats and ended with five in a row.

1968 — A 2-11-1 mark doomed Austin as Bill Nelsen was traded to Cleveland for Dick Shiner. Dick Hoak finished fourth in the league in rushing with 858 yards and Roy Jefferson caught 58 passes.

1969 — Chuck Noll, a Baltimore assistant and former Cleveland player, replaced Austin. His first official act was to draft Joe Greene, who became NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Jon Kolb and L.C. Greenwood, both of whom started in four Super Bowls, were also drafted that year. The team won its first game and then lost 13 straight.

1970 — Three Rivers Stadium opened and the team moved to the AFC as the NFL and AFL merged. Top draft choice Terry Bradshaw, the first player selected in the annual draft, and RB Frenchy Fuqua led the team to a 5-9 record.

1971 — The team remained in contention for the division title until the last few weeks of the season and finished 6-8. Bright spots were rookies Jack Ham, Larry Brown, Mike Wagner, Gerry Mullins, and Dwight White as Noll continued to build the team.

1972 — Will always be remembered for Rookie of the Year Franco Harris' "Immaculate Reception." The Steelers won their first-ever division title with an 11-3 record. Although Miami won the AFC Championship game, 21-17, 1972 was the start of something big.

1973 — Injuries were a problem in the Steelers' drive for greatness with Bradshaw, Terry Hanratty, Harris and Fuqua all sidelined. Still the team finished at 10-4 but lost to Oakland in round one of the playoffs.

1974 — With another AFC Central crown, the Steelers went on to their first Super Bowl Championship. Bradshaw took over for Joe Gilliam after the sixth game. Harris, rookie Lynn Swann and the Steel Curtain defense were big contributors to the team's success. Super Bowl IX vs. Minnesota saw Harris rush for a then-record 158 yards as the team won, 16-6.

1975 — After an upset loss to Buffalo Week 2, the Steelers surged to win 11 straight games. The team ran over Baltimore and Oakland to face Dallas in Super Bowl X. With Reggie Harrison blocking a punt and Swann winning MVP honors, Pittsburgh defeated the Cowboys, 21-17.

1976 — Even a 1-4 start couldn't keep the Steelers from their fourth straight division crown. The season jelled Oct. 17 with a home win over Cincinnati, 23-6, when rookie QB Mike Kruzek took over for an injured Bradshaw and handed off to Harris 41 times. The defense did not allow a TD for 22 quarters and recorded three shutouts. The Steelers beat Houston in the season finale to clinch the AFC Central title. But after a 40-14 rout of Baltimore in round one, the team lost Harris and Bleier to injuries and the season ended with a 24-7 loss to Oakland in the AFC title game.

1977 — The Steelers once again came out on top of the division the last week of the season with a 9-5 finish. Denver spoiled hopes for another Super Bowl by winning the first playoff game, 34-21.

1978 — The Steelers made history by becoming the first team to win three Super Bowls. After compiling the league's best regular-season record, 14-2, Pittsburgh triumphed in the playoffs and beat Dallas, 35-31, in Super Bowl XIII. Terry Bradshaw was the Super Bowl MVP with four TD passes. John Stallworth set an AFC divisional playoff record with 10 catches against Denver and had two TD receptions in the first half of the Super Bowl.

1979 — The "Dynasty" reigned supreme, winning an unprecedented fourth Super Bowl, the second time Chuck Noll's team won back-to-back World Championships. Miami and Houston were playoff victims on the road to Pasadena. The Rams were the prey as the "Team of the Decade" won, 31-19. Bradshaw became a two-time Super Bowl MVP with 309 passing yards. Harris had his seventh 1,000-yard season which tied Jim Brown's record.

1980 — The Steeler's pace slowed considerably in 1980 as the team failed to make the playoffs for the first time since 1971. Although Harris surpassed 9,000 career yards, the team lost three in a row after winning four of the first five. Bleier ended his career in fitting style, scoring the winning TD against Kansas City in his final home game.

1981 — Offseason retirements included Greene, Bleier, Wagner and White as the Steelers began to rebuild. The team was in contention until Bradshaw broke his hand in a 30-27 loss to Oakland and the season ended with the final regular season game.

1982 — Was a year of celebration as the team marked its 50th anniversary. Bradshaw's career total reached 210 touchdowns and Mel Blount became the team's all-time interception leader with 53. San Diego beat the Steelers, 31-28, in the first round of the AFC Tournament which was the last time a post-season game was played in Three Rivers.

1983 — For the first time since 1979, the Steelers were AFC Central Champs and in the playoffs for the 10th time in 12 seasons. The young team put together an NFL-high seven-game win streak in mid-season and a 10-6 record. The team lost, 38-10, to the L.A. Raiders in the first playoff game. Bradshaw played in just one game and Harris became the second all-time rushing leader as both completed their Steeler careers. Mel Blount retired following the season.

1984 — The Steelers were back in the AFC Championship game for the first time since 1979 but lost, 45-28, to Miami, despite their ninth division title since 1972. The team surprised Denver, 24-17, in Mile High Stadium for the first post-season win since Super Bowl XIV. A toe injury early in the season eventually ended Jack Lambert's career and injuries also caused Larry Brown to retire. But 1984 saw John Stallworth shatter yardage and reception records and also marked the NFL debut of Rookie of the Year Louis Lipps.

Three Rivers Stadium

1985 — For the first time since 1971, the team had a losing season, finishing 7-9 and failing to make the playoffs for only the third time in 14 seasons. Even though they lost fourth quarter leads in four games, the Steelers scored the third most points (379) in club history and the highest season total in the AFC. Kicker Gary Anderson earned his third straight AFC scoring title with a team-record 139 points. Stallworth and team

MVP and two-time Pro Bowler Lipps combined for 134 catches, 2,071 yards and 17 TDs receiving. Lipps also broke Franco Harris' season touchdown record by scoring 15.

1986 — Was a tale of two seasons. The team did not jell until mid-season, losing six of the first seven games. When the offensive line returned to health, the Steelers won five of the last nine games. Ernest Jackson joined the team three weeks into the season and led in rushing with 910 yards.

1987 — The Steelers were eliminated from playoff contention by Cleveland, 19-13, in the final game of the season. They were 8-7 in a season shortened by one game because of a players strike. Four-time Super Bowlers Donnie Shell and John Stallworth retired. Joe Greene and John Henry Johnson were elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

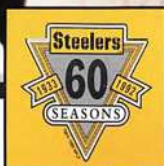

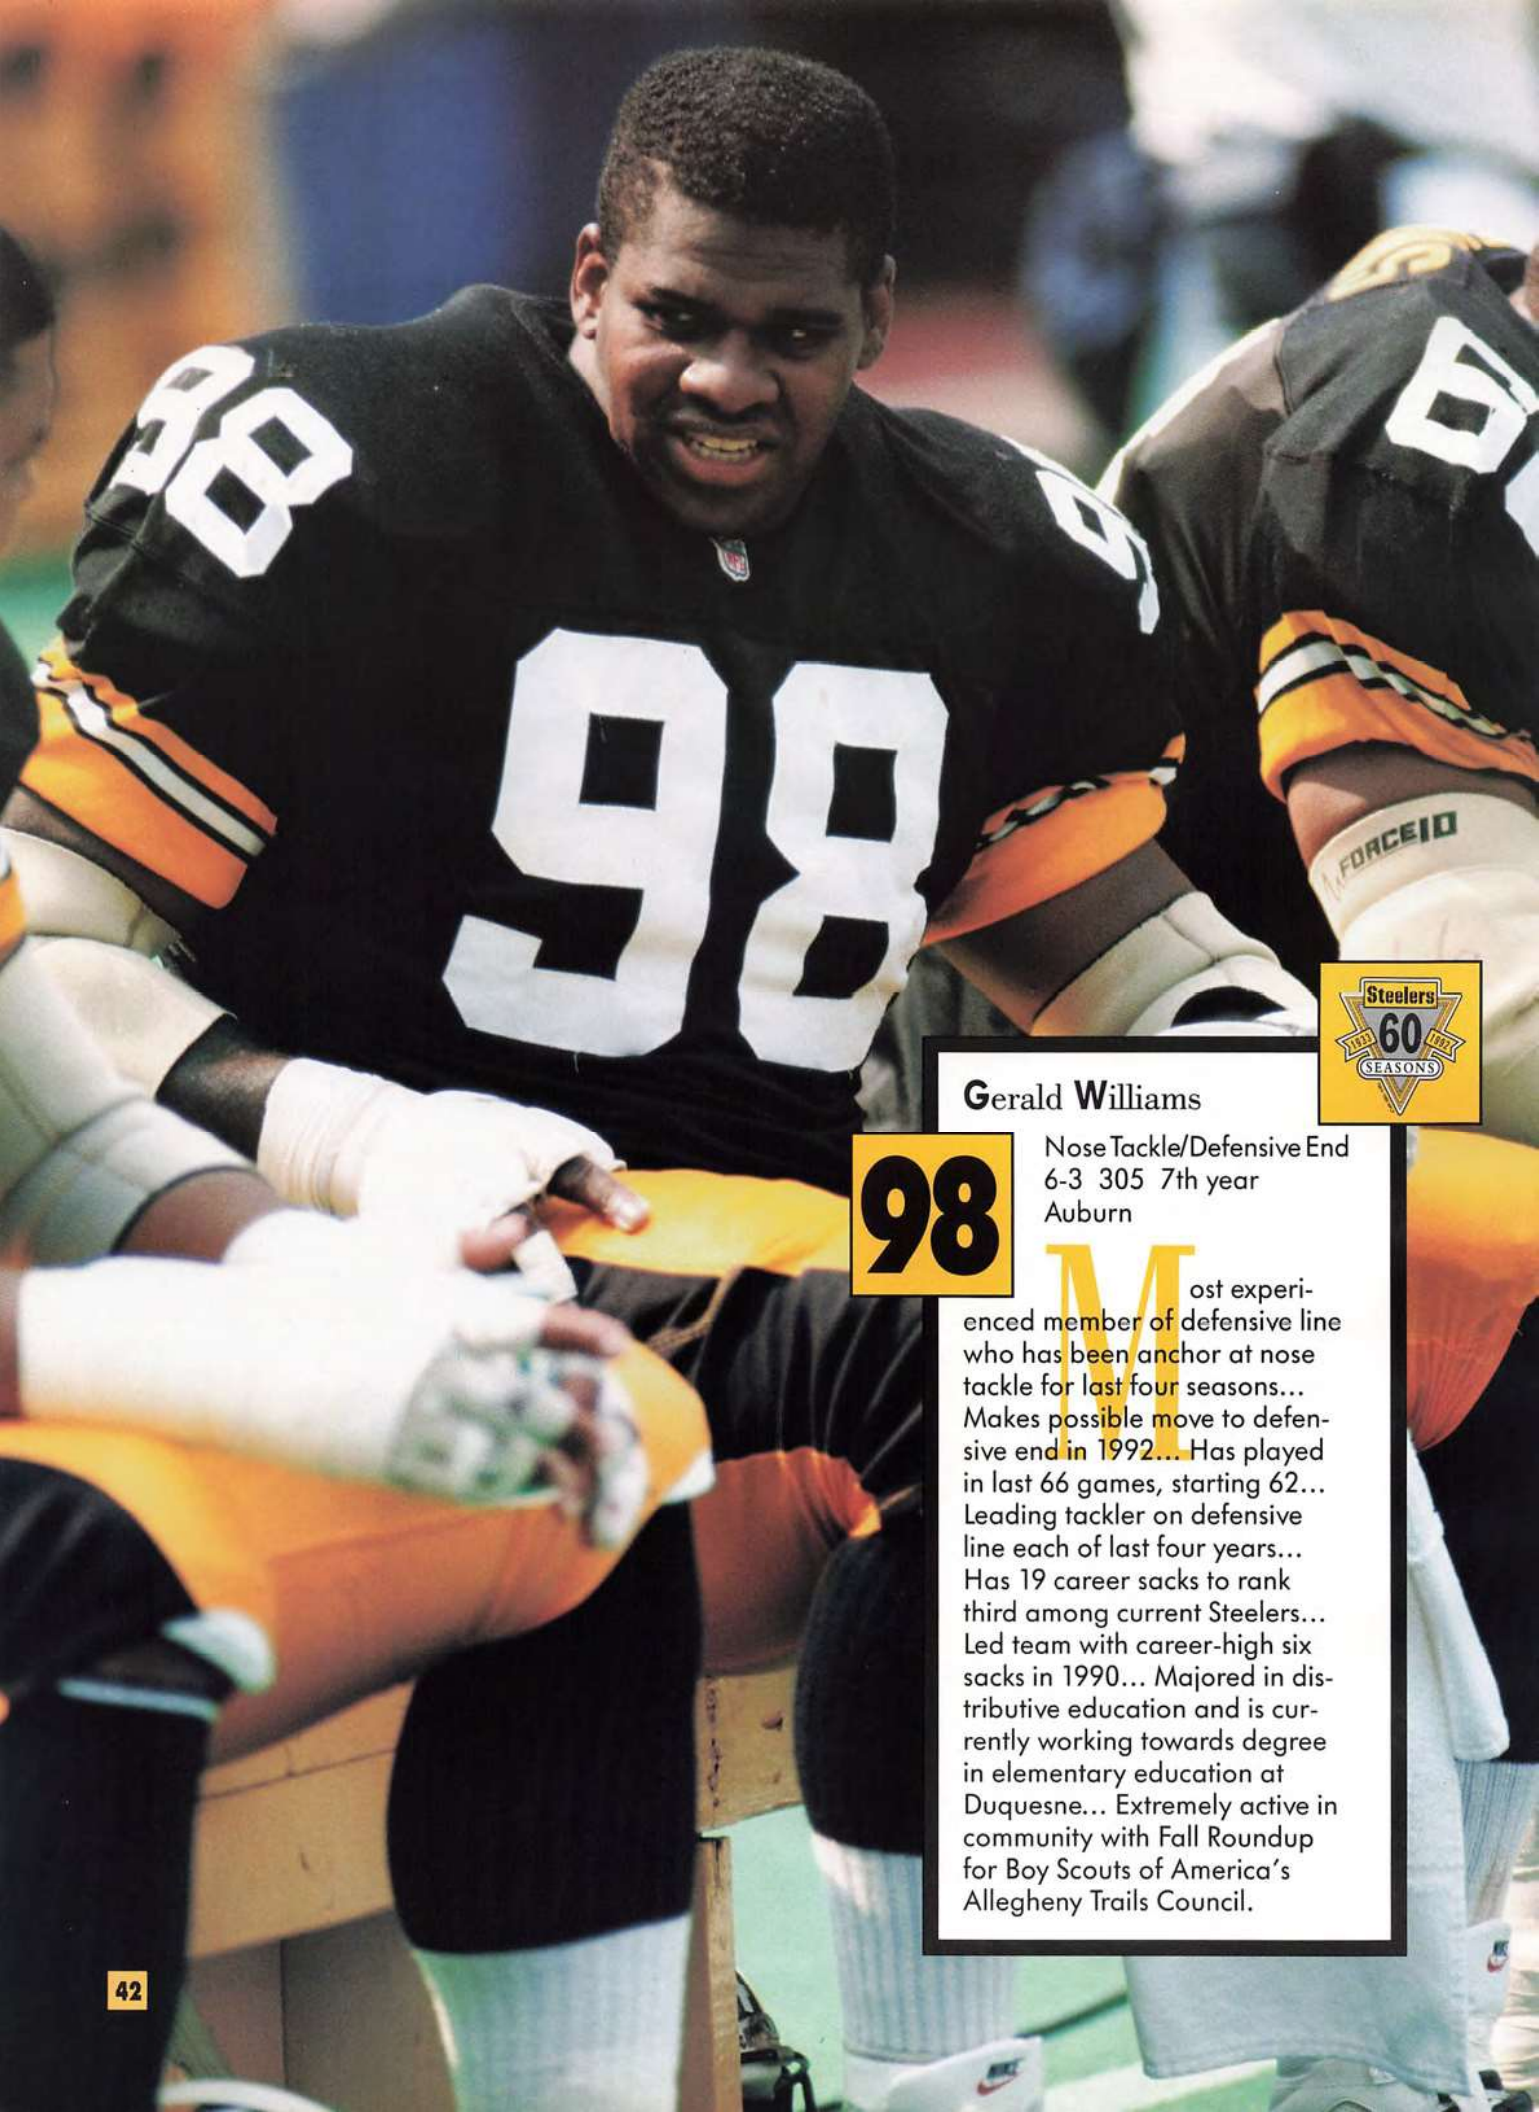

1988 — The Steelers recorded their second poorest record (5-11) in Chuck Noll's 23 seasons as the head coach. Mike Webster set a club record with 220 games played and Merrill Hoge established a new mark for the running backs with 50 pass receptions. Jack Ham was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. At the age of 87, Art Rooney died on August 25.

1989 — By winning five of their last six games, the Steelers made the playoffs for the first time in five seasons with a 9-7 record. They had lost their first two games by a combined score of 92-10 and the remarkable comeback earned Chuck Noll Coach of the Year honors for the first time. In the playoffs, an exciting 26-23 overtime win in Houston and a heartbreaking 24-23 loss in Denver ended the rags-to-riches finish. Mel Blount and Terry Bradshaw were elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1990 — Chuck Noll became the fifth coach in pro football history to win 200 games. A loss in Houston on the final day of the season dropped their record to 9-7 and a three-way tie for the division title. They lost the tie-breaker to the Oilers and the Browns and missed the playoffs. A 1-3 start in which the offense failed to score a touchdown negated a 3-1 finish. Franco Harris and Jack Lambert were elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1991 — On December 26th, after 23 years as the Steelers' head coach, Chuck Noll retired with a 209-156-1 career record. He is the only coach in NFL history to win four Super Bowls. His team turned in a 7-9 mark in his final season. Bobby Brister and Neil O'Donnell each started eight games and Greg Lloyd, the team MVP, made the Pro Bowl for the first time while Rod Woodson was selected for the third straight season.

1992 — On January 21st, Bill Cowher became the 15th coach in Steelers' history. On April 26, the Steelers drafted offensive lineman Leon Searcy of Miami (Fla.) on the first round.

JIM KELLY ON GOOD HANDS, GREAT ARMS & RED NOSES.

With his hands on the ball, greatness can happen.

And it usually does. Last season, Jim Kelly's arm launched more TDs than anyone's. So you know he doesn't clown around.

But he still likes clowns. He even collects them.

At the heart of his collection is another great Kelly—Emmet. And while both give people plenty to smile about, that's where the similarity ends. Because Jim Kelly is dead serious about football.

That includes the clothes he wears on the field.

NFL Pro Line™ Authentic NFL clothing from coaches' jackets, shirts and hats to players' jerseys, sweats, warmups and equipment that you can wear, too. Each designed to meet the standards of the people who set the standards in the NFL. People like Jim Kelly.

Official Signs That You Need A Mobile Phone.

There's a big problem at the office.

You just had a great idea and you need to tell someone.

You need to turn this job around fast.

You're late and someone's ticked.

You've got a stack of messages up to here.

You travel a lot.

*You don't want to

*You can't relax
unless the job is done*

For clear, dependable cellular communications, all signs point to the leader in personal communications, Bell Atlantic Mobile Systems, Inc. Call 1-800-255-BELL. A mobile phone is only as good as the system it's on.sm
